

Extreme sports

Hey <editor's name>,

My name is Elia and I'm from Lower Austria.

I think your article is well researched and it really made me motivated to try out something like this. So, I looked up "extreme sports" on the internet and found out about downhill biking. I thought it would be amazing to do this.

The following weekend I went to the downhill park in Saalbach (Salzburg) by train and rented a downhill bike, bought an entrance ticket, and rode down the track. At first, I was a bit confused where to go exactly, because the markings weren't that good. After a few rounds I got better at riding down those steep paths.

All in all, I really liked it and I'll do it again.

If teenagers are interested in extreme sports, I think they should try it, but with extra safety and guidance from experienced people. In case of an accident, you should also have insurance, so be sure to check that before you start with extreme sports.

Kind regards,

Elia Karrer
